Price Adjustments: Cut: Diamonds with better cuts trade at a premium. Diamonds with lesser cuts trade at discount. Fluorescence: Diamonds with significant fluorescence may trade at substantial discount. Certification: Some certificates command a higher price point, while other certificates trade at discount. Diamonds accompanied with Canadian Government certification trade at a premium.

Other shapes, such as: Princess, Radiant, Emerald, Pear etc. sell for slight to extreme price discounts

News: All time low US exchange further decrease prices by 5% for this period pricing. Due to low prices, availability may be limited as Canadian cutters may request price adjustment to offset strong Canadian dollar. High quality 3-5Ct. diamonds price increase of 2-5% for this pricing period. Segments of low to high quality fancy shapes up to 1Ct. 2-5% decrease in price. High quality 3-5Ct. fancy shapes 2-5% increase over last period pricing. Gold spot prices in Canadian funds $748.10/oz, 18K gold content $18/gr, 14K gold content $14/gr (November 1) US Exchange $1 CDN=$0.95USD (November 1). Aber Diamond Corporation will now list on the New York Stock Exchange, however the name is expected to change to Harry Winston Diamond Corporation (November 19, 2007).

October News: Diamond trading markets are under massive pressure to increase prices for US Dollar decline vs. Canadian Dollar and the Euro. Shortage noticed for 1.50 and up to 2.00 carat high quality goods. 0.25 carat goods sell at high premiums. US Exchange rate dropped wholesale pricing in CDN funds dramatically. Retailers are expected to follow suite in the coming month. Christmas rush expected to influence availability and prices in the next month.
